The Event

SolidusConf is the annual conference for Solidus experts and newbies, Rails users, Ruby lovers, and stores considering the platform. This year's edition is a four-day event that consists of two single-track conference days and two hack days working side-by-side with the Solidus core team and other Solidus experts. It is an excellent opportunity to network with developers, business owners, and eCommerce enthusiasts, and hear from Solidus community leaders about the platform's current status, future, and other updates.

Venue
